

Fortnightly reflections indicating reflections on physical activity/play

Fortnightly Reflection Plan 6/11/2023_17/11/ 2023

	participated in all activities. A special dance from a few educators in honor of Diwali saw all the children gather in babies' room to watch this special performance while the children show great enthusiasm they also participated with their own groove dance moves. Remembrance day we did more arts and crafts, and show cased our work on our entrance door. Recycling activities found us creating activities from recycled items like egg cartons, cardboards etc. Another activity the children all enjoyed.	children.	them away after playing. Our Pack away song has helped a little and with more practice I feel the children will understand the concept.
Heather	HOW DID YOU INCLUDE FAMILY INPUT THIS WEEK? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Jaila's mum has asked us to only give her bottle as she needs it, so this is something we have updated.</li> <li>Flynn is starting his transition; however, mum is very worried about him settling so we have made sure to reassure her that we will not push Flynn if he is not ready.</li> </ul>	WHAT, IF ANY, ADDITIONAL RESOURCES ARE REQUIRED TO SUPPORT YOUR PROGRAM? Having more outdoor play equipment would benefit the children as they will have a variety of things to play with that we can rotate, they start to get bored quickly with what we currently have in the shed to play with.	WHICH NEW INTERESTS EMERGED? (what can we extend) We have just celebrated Diwali, so we had some decorations up, as well as a recycling corner and table for further education for the children. We also had Remembrance Day paintings on the entrance door. We will move onto Christmas decorations as we are getting closer and excited to celebrate.
Say	PRINCIPLES:	PRACTICES: Learn through play	THEORISTS:	